

Chris Youb

Chief Technology Officer

Professional Engineer with 16 years of experience in the Enterprise IT sector covering government, telecom, utilities, education and banking. Primarily focused in Western Canada, Chris serves national customers across Canada as needed.

Chris excels in identifying and proposing vendor agnostic solutions to address complex business opportunities. Engaging customers during the project lifecycle from technical presales, design/architecture and deployment, he is able to understand, execute and deliver analytical solutions with a proven track record of success.

Chris has past experience with a leading edge storage start-up, from early formation. During that time he gained unique knowledge and insight into software test design, test automation and software/tool development with adherence to strict requirements and standards. Later engagements included special projects with the military and technical pre-sales in the enterprise space.
